Course Description

This instructional course has been designed for experienced Healthcare Professionals (HCPs) already undertaking primary Total Hip Arthroplasty (THA) who wish to train themselves on the ABLE Advanced Anterior Approach.

The format of this course will enable greater HCP interaction with faculty, providing a comprehensive learning experience. HCPs will learn about the philosophy, surgical technique and outcomes of the ABLE Approach. They will practice with various implant instrumentation during the anatomical workshop sessions and experiment how to apply these surgical principles, gestures and procedures in their own practice safely and effectively.

Expert faculty members will conduct participants through this intensive training with lectures, discussions and hands-on cadaveric workshops.

Course Objectives

- Fully understand the benefits and technique for minimally invasive, muscle-sparing THA through the ABLE Approach
- Gain surgical skills for performing THA through the ABLE Approach
- Review the available evidence for the use of the ABLE Approach in primary THA
- Critically discuss cases with faculty
- Learn 'tips and tricks' from peers and faculty

Intended Audience

Orthopaedic surgeons currently performing THA who are looking for a true anterior-based muscle sparing approach.
